“GV10 is the first film to ever document all street dance styles together as one unified culture. Filmmaker Bob Bryan has painted an accurate and entertaining picture of the urban dance scene today. Bryan weaves together a visual tapestry of showcases and interviews with pioneers likes Fresh (LA Breakers) and Kujo and new school legends like Machine, Tailz and B-Girl Loan. Everyone featured brings a unique perspective, and all of their voices deserve to be heard. GV10 HIP-HOP DANCE: Moving In The Moment is a definitive snapshot of both where our culture is, and where it’s heading.

Bryan has successfully captured the essence of our culture and the love for it that all street dancers share.
