

CHAPTER ONE

Pages: 15 - 34

What does Graffiti Art speak to?

Tempt "Graf Art speaks on greed and power, and speaks on political struggle, and that's what I'm into. I'm into resistance and revolution, as a form of change of self. A heightened sense of awareness."

Who are you angry at?

Emrys "I'm not angry at anyone in particular. I'm angry at the idea that I have a real idealistic way of thinking about the way things should be.... how society can be and interact with each other. I think, I'm also a fatalist in the fact that I know it"

What were your intentions as a Graffiti writer?

Shay "My purpose is to understand that Graffiti is a language. I see beauty, strength, and Art in Graffiti. Graffiti is an Art movement. It's all about getting up."
