"Graffiti is the only Art that said something to me, it said something back to me. It got me excited when I look at a piece. I can feel it right in my hands, I can feel it in my blood.

I feel excited looking at a piece, a good piece and I guess it let me know I was alive because I could feel myself. Whereas other Art, it was nice to look at but it didn't do anything for me."

"At the time when I embraced Hip-hop, Graffiti Art, I was very, very, very conservative. Really conservative! It just took over my mind. It's really the only way I could put it!

I had an extended family, a whole crew and now all of sudden, you become popular!"

"I want everyone to know who I am!

I don't want to be another face in the crowd. If I'm gonna be somebody, I want people to say "Oh Nerv, I know who he is..."

I want people to know who I am. I don't want to go thru life restricting myself to friends, restricting myself to my neighborhood.

I want to be everywhere!"
